

BESIDE ME ALL THE WAY

Robbie L. Rogers

On this crisp day with you beside,
My heart feels warm and gay,
With sunshine on my face I feel,
I would really like to stay.

You give to me a warm embrace,
Free with each step I take.
So confidently I stride on,
To reach my goal without forsake;

But, whoa says I as I stare intent,
Reflecting on clear blue skies,
My life abounds in prickly pears,
As grass withers and dies.

Then lo the things I see all change,
Replaced with joyful visions;
The worth whiles of my life I think,
Emanate from your sweet giving.

And tho we forged life's swollen streams,
And climbed our mountains high,
Many obstacles lay straight ahead;
Of this you can rely.

So as I climb, and climb I must,
There's something we all know,
Its nicer here, for you to be,
Beside me all the way.
